High Speed Doors

Pacific Material Handling Solutions, Inc., provides a full product line of high speed roll up doors and impact doors. As well as insect barriers and screen doors. Our high performance doors are ideal for applications in industrial and commercial facilities such as warehouses, food processing and storage facilities, manufacturing facilities, and distribution centers.

High Performance Doors, Automatic, Manual, and Specialty

Our Hörmann Flexon high speed doors are designed for industrial and commercial applications and are ideal for manufacturing companies, food processing plants, and warehouse facilities.

Manufactured in the US, our high speed doors are designed to:

- Reduce costly energy consumption by improving environmental control.
- Improve productivity and enhance materials flow.
- Promote and improve employee safety.
- Decrease maintenance expenditures.
- We design our high speed doors with a focus on value over the door's life-cycle.
- Customers can count on our Hörmann Flexon doors to offer long-term savings – from minimized downtime to lower maintenance costs.

Automatic High Speed Doors

Our automatic high speed doors can be installed in virtually any interior or exterior doorway and are ideal for facilities that use motorized materials handling equipment, require a separation of plant environments, or demand energy efficiency.

As with all Hörmann Flexon products, we take pride in offering our customers automatic high speed doors that are designed for long-term value and backed by dependable Technical Support.

Our exclusive, springless designs ensure that your door can stay in operation, and your operations can stay online.
